THE CHINA MAIL.

RONGKONG, THURSDAY, FEB. 17, 1876.

THE Overland Mail has a somewha stirring article on the subject of the Tonnage dues, and draws attention the way in which the moneys received under that head have been diverted from their proper object by the Chinese authorities. We can answer one question it puts, however, though the answer we fear will not do much towards clearing to allege the contrary is to deny history up the matter. The writer says,-

We know that a certain amount has been expended on the erection of beacons and lighthouses, and the distribution of buoys and lightships-matters on which consuls and superintendents of customs are supposed to consult together as occasion may demand though we fear that this provision of Lord Elgin's treaty, like many others, is more honoured in the breach than in the observance: but where does the mighty credit balance go to? It is certainly not spent dredging harbours, and more particularly bars—as a large portion of it decidedly ought to be; for tonnage dues, after payment reasonable expenses, should in one way or another be wholly devoted to the service of Papuans shew themselves bitterly nostile

No doubt tical-wrong, perhaps, but necessary if this ought to be accounted for. But we fancy that the Overland Mail overlooks the creditable amount of work which the question in its plainest form, let the has been done by the Lighthouse depart | Peace Society answer this question: ment since Mr Hart took the matter in it better that Australia and New Zealand hand. Not so incredible as it seems, if it be recollected that China does not want either our ships or their tonnage dues, or the improvements to which the latter should be devoted. We are not here contending with the mere inertia of native laziness. The opposition is even deeper than that arising from avarice. Even supposing we offered to bear all the cost, we doubt if China would willingly consent to dredge her bars and air navigation to the fullest extent. It is the 1st March, at 9 r.m. with the not merely a question of money. The autute Chinaman is perfectly well aware that the Wusnes and Taku bare form natural defences against large draugh vessels of war, and memorials to that effect have already been published in the Peking Gasetts. This fact must be remembered in dealing with the question of the appropriation of the tonnage dues Still there is much in the article under notice that will commend itself to public attention, and we shall be glad if it has propaid will be forwarded by the Engsome effect. It is yet possible that if reform does not take place, foreign vessels will refuse to pay the dues, and that such action will be sustained by our

But, on the other hand, they have done a good deal of harm, and the Russian war of 1858 was openly attributed by the late Emperor Nicholas of Russia to the untruthful representation of the three quakers who essayed to convey to him the feeling of the British nation. It may be urged that this i now a matter of history. But certain statements in the articles before us are unfortunately very much the reverse.

Under the caption of "Aborigines and "Peace" the following somewhat startling exordium startling to either readers of Hebrew history or of the events passing in our day-introduces us to the body of the article :--

History affords uniform and wide-spread confirmation of the inspired declaration respecting the Most High, that "He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth. The object of these articles appears to be an attack on the New Guines expedition, which it classes with the kidnspring operations of the South Sea Island cruizers. Here again the Peace Society exaggerates to serve its own purposes. There is no talk at present of even any proposal to forcibly seize land occupied by the natives. PRESS. The Press remarks that, although it is by no means certain that the Yunnan investigation will not result merely in the condemnation of unimportant criminals, the degradation of Li Sital is a rather more hopeful sign, and may be taken as an indication that the Chinese Government conscious that Great Britain cannot be trifled with any further. . . With regard to the astety of the Hon, W. Grosvenor and his colleagues, there is no longer cause for much anxiety. The British Government have made known their intention to send troops through Burmah to meet them, and this guard will not only suffice for their protection but will give their added influence and weight at the Inquiry in Yunnan, Le Han Chang has undoubtedly shown a disposition to do his Work in an off-hand manner. In fact it is almost a wonder he has not gone much further and settled the affair, according to his own ideas, without more ado, leaving nothing for his British colleagues to do or say on their arrival but to acquiesce, or not, as they might think proper, in his work. But this may have arisen father from ignorance than ill will. At all events the British Government has made known its demands and intends to exact their hondet fulfilment. Whether the Chinese Authorities fully recognise this fact of not it is impossible to say with certainty, but the action taken with fespect to Li Sitai would seem to imply that they have done The Pres condudes by noting the activity displayed by the Chinese in arming themselves, and thinks this fact may have with it, is owing to no want of tespect had an inquence on the tone now adopted

THE HONGKONG NATIVE PRESS. The Chinese Mail gives all the rumours of the preparations of war in Japan as they are published in the foreign papers. It gives a translation of the report of the Hongkong Fire Insurance Company, and says a share in it is a very good investment. It recommends the Chinese to go to see the Flower Show and to contribute to the same

The Chung Ngoi San Po (the Chinese isaus of the Daily Press), while noticing the naturalization of a few Chinese as American subjects, gives the discussion of the newspapers on the question. Some say the recent legislation against the immigration of women into America is an attempt to drive away the Chinese, but it thinks the practical results will not be in favour of the United States, because the moment a Chinaman makes his money abroad he will return to China. Thus he will carry home with him the riches of America instead of spending it there.

The Universal Circulating Herald comments on the assault on the two Protestant Missionaries at Hankow. It says the object of evangelization is a very good but the Missionaries, in going to untravelled districts, have to employ interpreters who are either drawn from the ranks of their own servants or converts. Of course this can be read in two These interpreters know very little of the world, and are very soldom open to worldly reasoning. They are more often haughty than humble, and with these dispositions, they do not know how to behave themselves, nor can they discern what is proper or improper to say to people. Wa understand that the Indian Government have held back the issue of its Rupes Treasury Bills for the current month (amounting to a million and a quarter sterling) owing to the low prices offered by remitters. The authorities are evidently of opinion that exchange rates are at present unduly depressed, and we hope, in the interests of those who require to remit money home, that they are correct in their view, This puestion of the depreciation of allyer is becoming father serious, and if the Home Government is in possession of information which justifies it in declining current fated, the fact may be accepted as an indication of possible improvement in the future.

THE HONGKONG FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED.

The Seventh Ordinary Meeting of the Shareholders in this Company took place this afternoon (17th) at the Head Office, Messra Jardine, Matheson & Co.'s. There were present: The Hon. W. Dr Adams and others. The notice of meeting having been read, the Chairman said the report having been in the hands of the shareholders, it would not perhaps be out of order that it should be taken as read. The present report did not call forth much remark on his part beyond the fact that the business of the Company contineed to prosper, and that it was gaining strength from year to year, the reserve fund being now $507,000. He had no other remark to make except that last year was not quite so free from casualties as its predecessors, but it was satisfactory that in addition to the losses already paid, $20,000, as mentioned in the report, had been provided to meet all contingencies. The result, in his opinion, was very satisfactory to the shareholders. He then proposed the adoption of the report.

Mr H, Nelson having seconded the motion, it was unanimously carried. The Chairman saked if any of the shareholders had any question to put. There being none, he proceeded to state that the next business was the tota of the remuneration of the Consulting Committee.

Mr H. R. Belilios proposed that the tistal remuneration be allowed to the Consulting Committee. Mr Landstein seconded the motion, and
